Nitin, meet Yan Huang from University of North Texas. She's the vice provost for research. She visited me today and we discussed future projects in narrative analysis and development of algorithms to help in understanding narrative frames. We discussed the possibility of having UNT work with Blogtrackers to develop methods and approaches, including models to help users. Minerva and MURI possibilities were also discussed.

This is to give you both an introduction to get the conversation started. I warned her that you're going to be very busy this week. Hopefully you can get together on the phone soon.

VR,
